Mobitor certifies Mobile Business Manager enterprise mobile and wireless solution on a wide array of new Windows Smartphones on the Verizon, AT&T, Sprint and T-Mobile networks.

San Ramon, CA November 11, 2009.

Mobitor Corporation, a leader in mobile and wireless enterprise business applications announced that it has certified their award-winning enterprise business application, Mobile Business Manager, on six new Windows Smartphones running Microsoft's recently released 6.5 operating system. From Verizon Wireless comes the HTC Imagio and the HTC TouchPro 2, from AT&T Wireless the HTC Pure and the HTC Tilt 2, From Sprint the HTC TouchPro 2, and from T-Mobile the HTC Touch Pro 2.

"Mobitor is very pleased to certify MBM on these exciting new devices from all of the major US wireless operators," said Audie Hofmann, EVP of Mobitor Corporation. "We believe that our development partnerships and close working relationships with the wireless carriers and Microsoft allow us to deploy our vertical solutions rapidly and with great stability much sooner than any of competitors."

Windows Mobile 6.5 and the superb hi-resolution 800 x 480 screens on these devices greatly enhances the user experience and the improved stability and memory capacity allows our vertical solutions for life sciences and consumer goods to provide a richer experience when multitasking across numerous content types such as rich media, the Microsoft Office suite, internet services, Adobe PDF and the numerous other integrated content supported by MBM.

"Given this expansion of our supported device portfolio, we are able to offer our existing and future clients an advantageous service solution," said Barrett Eliot, Director of Mobitor Support and Services.
